Who We Are

Connecting producers, suppliers and customers across international markets.

ATY General Trading L.L.C. is a Dubai-based international trading company focused on steel, metals and selected industrial commodities.

Our business is built around identifying reliable sources, understanding customer requirements and creating practical commercial routes between origin markets and destination markets. We work with established producers, suppliers, industrial customers and trading partners to develop dependable, long-term relationships.

SOURCE

Identify dependable supply opportunities.

CONNECT

Match products with international demand.

DELIVER

Coordinate execution through delivery.

Our Core Business

International trading, import and export of steel and related metal products.

ATY's core business is the international trading of steel and related metal products. We source from established producers and suppliers and supply customers in international markets.

Our trading activities span sourcing, procurement, sales, market development, order coordination, shipment coordination, documentation and customer/supplier support — all integrated into our principal trading business.
